Understanding the Foundation: Why Habits Matter in Women's Rise

Habits shape our actions, perceptions, and ultimately our destinies. For women, societal expectations, gender norms, and internalized beliefs often reinforce certain behaviors that hinder advancement. These habits are frequently rooted in fear, self-doubt, or the desire for approval. Recognizing these patterns is the first step toward change. Once identified, women can employ targeted strategies to dismantle these barriers, fostering resilience and authentic growth.

The Twelve Habits Holding Women Back

Based on insights from "How Women Rise" by Sally Helgesen and Marshall Goldsmith, these habits are common pitfalls that women often encounter on their path to leadership and success. Each habit is explored below with detailed explanations and actionable advice.

1. Reluctance to Claim Your Achievements

The Habit: Women frequently downplay or overlook their accomplishments, hesitating to promote their successes. This reluctance can stem from modesty, fear of appearing boastful, or cultural conditioning that discourages self-promotion.

Impact: Under-claiming achievements can lead to missed opportunities, lack of recognition, and diminished confidence. It also perpetuates the misconception that women are less competent or deserving.

How to Break It:

- Practice "achievement journaling" to consciously acknowledge successes.
- Develop a concise, confident "elevator pitch" that highlights your accomplishments.
- Share successes with mentors, peers, and supervisors to ensure they are acknowledged.
- Reframe self-promotion as a service to others?helping colleagues understand your value.

2. Judging Yourself for Not Being Perfect

The Habit: Striving for perfection often leads women to self-criticize and avoid risks, fearing mistakes or imperfections.

Impact: Fear of failure can result in procrastination, avoidance of challenging tasks, and reduced innovation.

How to Break It:

- Embrace a growth mindset that views mistakes as learning opportunities.
- Set realistic standards and accept that imperfection is part of the human experience.
- Celebrate small wins to build confidence and resilience.
- Practice self-compassion and challenge inner critical voices.

3. Overvaluing Expertise and Underestimating the Power of Relationships

The Habit: Women may prioritize technical skills over building relationships, believing expertise alone is sufficient for advancement.

Impact: Neglecting relationship-building can limit access to mentorship, sponsorship, and collaborative opportunities.

How to Break It:

- Invest time in networking and nurturing professional relationships.
- Seek mentorship and sponsorship actively.
- Engage in active listening and show genuine interest in colleagues' perspectives.
- Recognize that leadership is often as much about influence and relationships as skills.

4. Making Your Career About You

The Habit: Focusing solely on personal achievements and recognition can alienate colleagues and hinder team cohesion.

Impact: This self-centered approach may limit collaboration and diminish perceived leadership qualities.

How to Break It:

- Shift focus to team success and collective goals.
- Share credit generously and acknowledge others' contributions.
- Practice humility and openness to feedback.

- Demonstrate a collaborative attitude that emphasizes shared purpose.

- Lead by example and demonstrate integrity.
- Enhance soft skills like emotional intelligence and communication.
- Recognize that leadership is often about influence rather than position.

- Break tasks into manageable steps with clear deadlines.
- Accept that imperfect action often provides valuable learning.
- Celebrate progress instead of waiting for perfection.

8. Relying on External Validation

The Habit: Seeking approval from others for self-worth can undermine confidence and independence.

Impact: Overdependence on external validation limits authentic self-assessment and decision-making.

- Practice affirmations and mindfulness to strengthen self-trust.
- Limit the influence of others' opinions on your self-esteem.
