Many cat owners notice their feline friends squeezing into cardboard boxes of all sizes, often seemingly preferring them over more elaborate toys or furniture. While it may appear simply playful or quirky, the tendency of cats to hide in boxes is rooted in their natural instincts, psychology, and comfort needs. Understanding why cats love boxes can help pet owners create a more enriching environment for their feline companions, ensuring they feel safe, secure, and mentally stimulated.

Why Do Cats Love to Hide in Boxes?

Natural Instincts and Evolutionary Background

Factors contributing to this preference include:

- Insulation: Cardboard is a good insulator, trapping body heat.
