The 19th century was a period of rapid industrialization and social change in England. Horses played a crucial role in transportation, agriculture, and industry, often subjected to harsh working conditions. The widespread use of horse-drawn carriages and carts meant that countless horses endured neglect, overwork, and abuse. Sewell's novel emerged as a response to these conditions, aiming to shed light on animal cruelty and promote kindness.

Inspiration Behind the Autobiography

Contrary to popular belief, Black Beauty was not a real horse but a fictional character inspired by Sewell's observations and experiences. Sewell intended to write a story from a horse's perspective to foster empathy among humans. Her narrative is structured as the autobiography of Black Beauty himself, recounting his life from foalhood to old age, and reflecting on the treatment he received along the way.
